Introduction

This mobility guide provides information about the wide variety of transportation resources available for every age and income bracket in both Santa Clara and San Mateo Counties. Whether you're looking for public transportation, paratransit, volunteer drivers, or driver safety programs, this Mobility Guide will provide you with the information needed to understand and use the wealth of services accessible to you, your clients, and your loved ones.

Please do not hesitate to contact the OUTREACH Mobility Management Center at any time if you have further questions not answered in this guide.

Dial (408) 436-2865 for information about all of your mobility needs.

Additional mobility and transportation resources are available online at www.outreach1.org. Click on the link labeled "Community Search System" to access over 200 different health and human service agencies throughout the greater San Francisco Bay Area.

Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority

The Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority (VTA) is an independent transportation district that provides sustainable, accessible, community-focused transportation options that are innovative, environmentally responsible, and promote the vitality of our region. All VTA buses, light rail trains and transit facilities are accessible. In addition to 3,700 bus stops, 62 light rail stations, and 15 transit centers, VTA provides a variety of additional mobility options:

- Clipper: Clipper is an all-in-one transit “smart card” that you can load transit passes and electronic cash value to use on Bay Area transit systems, including VTA, SF Muni, BART, AC Transit, Caltrain, SamTrans, and the SF Bay Ferry. The previously named RTC Discount Card is now a Clipper card. Clipper cards are offered at a discounted rate for seniors ages 65 and older.
- Daycations: This program was developed to help local seniors “get out and get adventurous” by helping them navigate the public transit system. A VTA speaker hosts morning trainings immediately followed by a free guided bus and/or light rail ride to entertainment or shopping venues of their choice in Santa Clara County (travel groups: minimum of 5, maximum of 10 per group).
- Night Stop: As a safety measure, a VTA bus operator can stop at a location that is closer to your final destination than the regular stop, providing it is along the designated route. This service is available after evening peak hours until the morning rush hour, and is for de-boarding only. It is available upon request and will be provided only when and where the operator feels it is safe to pull over.

VTA continually builds partnerships to deliver transportation solutions that meet the evolving mobility needs of Santa Clara County.

Please visit the VTA website for time schedules and fares for public transportation in Santa Clara County or call the number below for trip planning assistance.

San Mateo County Transit District

The San Mateo County Transit District (SamTrans) is the administrative body in control of the public transit and transportation programs within San Mateo County.

In 1977, more than a decade prior to the adoption of the Americans with Disabilities Act, SamTrans was responsible for creating Redi-Wheels, a paratransit program for those riders with mobility needs beyond those provided by the public transit system (RediCoast is the paratransit program serving passengers along the coastline of San Mateo County).

SamTrans is also responsible for the Caltrain community rail system throughout the County district as well as overseeing the San Mateo County Transportation Authority (SMCTA).

SamTrans operates 48 bus routes within the County as well as parts of Palo Alto and San Francisco. As their programs have grown, SamTrans has begun to introduce ultra-low emissions articulated buses and low-floor buses. They strive to improve service based on customers' travel patterns and available resources and continue to expand to meet the needs of the San Mateo County population.

OUTREACH Mobility Management Center

OUTREACH began its journey 30 years ago as a War on Poverty Organization and is the Metropolitan Transportation Commission's designated Consolidated Transportation Service Agency (CTSA) for Santa Clara County. As a premier source of human service transportation, OUTREACH operates as the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) paratransit broker for the Valley Transportation Authority (VTA) to provide public paratransit service to the 15 incorporated cities and towns in the South Bay Area.

As the county has continued to diversify and expand its population, OUTREACH has evolved its services to include mobility options for all vulnerable populations, including seniors and low-income person.

Additional programs include senior transportation, taxi vouchers, volunteer rides, bus passes, and gas cards.

The OUTREACH Mobility Management Center is the driving force of innovative mobility options in the South Bay Area, providing not only transportation services but also an array of online tools to assist other health and human agencies in managing their own services.

Volunteer Drivers

While there are many public transportation options available, you may have additional mobility constraints during your daily or weekly schedules. The fixed-route or paratransit systems may not accommodate you during hours that you would need, or perhaps you may need a direct ride for trips such as going to and from the grocery store or your local drugstore. Such constraints may require that you review other options. The following subsections list information on health and human service agencies in Santa Clara County and San Mateo County that provide volunteer rides to their own clients and the general public.

Santa Clara County

Heart of the Valley

Heart of the Valley Services for Seniors, Inc. is committed to supporting independent living for seniors 65 years and older residing in the western Santa Clara County. Heart of the Valley recruits volunteers to provide seniors with escorted transportation and a variety of in-home services, including gardening, computer assistance, minor home repairs, cleaning out closets or sheds, and/or general companionship.

Seniors in Action (650) 738-7384

The Seniors in Action van transports seniors to and from the Pacifica Senior Center Monday through Friday during the midday with 24-hour phone notice. The Center schedules two group shopping trips per month to local destinations. Individual requests for transportation to medical appointments will be accommodated as the schedule permits and must be requested at least 72 hours in advance.

South San Francisco Senior Center (650) 829-3824

The South San Francisco Senior Center transportation service is primarily used to transport clients in the Adult Day Care program to and from their homes. Transportation to the El Camino Senior Center and Magnolia Center may be available dependent upon the pick-up location and time.

Senior Driver Safety Programs

In the San Francisco Bay Area, there are vast, widespread transportation resources available for vulnerable populations such as seniors and the disabled. Previous sections of this guide have targeted those individuals who need mobility options for some or all of their trips. However, there are many seniors who are still active drivers and have access to a vehicle to transport themselves and their loved ones when necessary. There are local and national programs available for those mature drivers who have a license but could use a few adjustments to their driving habits due to age-related physical and mental changes that may affect their ability to drive safely. The following subsections provide detail regarding senior driver safety programs, both in-person and online, local and statewide.

AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety

The American Automobile Association (AAA) has long been recognized as an advocate for driver training and safety in Northern California, Nevada and Utah. In the early 2000s, AAA focused on promoting senior driving safety, supporting solutions such as senior-friendly road design, education for seniors and their families, supplemental transportation, and screening tools to help seniors become safer drivers. AAA provides many local programs and classes, and their website contains multiple assessment tests and other useful resources on driving safely for older adults.

Website: www.aaaseniors.com

Phone: (800) 922-8228

AARP

Founded in 1958, AARP is a nonprofit, nonpartisan membership organization that helps people ages 50 and over improve the quality of their lives. AARP's mission is to enhance the quality of life for all Americans as they age, leading positive social change, and delivering value to members through information, advocacy, and service. Their website hosts a Driver Safety Program to promote safe driving, help older drivers maintain their mobility, and promote independence among older adults.

Travel Training & Trip Planning

Being able to travel safely and confidently is the key to maintaining a productive and independent life. There are multiple programs available in the Bay Area that provide assistance and training to those with visual, physical, and cognitive disabilities as well as older adults who want to be able to navigate public transportation with confidence.

VTA

The VTA has two programs to assist with travel training (<http://www.vta.org/senior/services>):

- Daycations: “To help our senior riders learn how to better use the VTA system, we offer the training and excursions called ‘Daycations.’ A VTA speaker hosts morning trainings immediately followed by a free guided bus and/or light rail ride to entertainment or shopping venues of their choice in Santa Clara County. Our phone number is (408) 321-2300.”
- Trip Planning: “We make it easy to find out how to get where you are going. You can get a customized trip plan by speaking to one of our Information Service Representatives (ISR). ISR are available to help Monday through Friday from 6:00 am until 7:00 pm, and Saturdays from 7:30 am to 4:00. Our phone number is (408) 321-2300.”

Taxi Services

Taxi cab companies fill the need for immediate, direct service. Senior discounts can also assist in making this an affordable mode of transportation – the San Jose Municipal Code (Chapter 6.64) states: “For users of taxicab services who are handicapped or are 65 years of age or older, a minimum fifteen percent (15%) discount will be taken from the total regular fare. Taxicabs providing subsidized fares may provide a discount greater than fifteen percent (15%) off the total regular fare.” This discount applies to all companies who serve the San Jose International Airport or are operating under licenses within the City of San Jose.

1-800-TAXI

1-800-TAXI-USA’s online and telephone referral directory is the most comprehensive and dependable of its kind, offering the convenience of one easy to use, easy to remember toll-free number to quickly connect callers to local taxi companies.
